

AMC Deputy Commanding General Visits DDC

LTG Richard Hack, USA, Deputy Commanding General, Army Materiel Command (AMC), visited the Defense Distribution Center (DDC) March 24, 2004. He received the DDC Command Brief and toured the Defense Distribution Depot Susquehanna, PA's (DDSP) Eastern Distribution Center (EDC).

His areas of interest included DDC's warehouse and transportation management system, the Distribution Standard System (DSS); Net Landed Cost; the Distribution Planning and Management System (DPMS); and DDC's support to Operation Iraqi Freedom.

"I want to thank each of you for the service you are providing to your country," LTG Hack told the DDC staff. "You have a very difficult job and you are doing it quite well. You are to be commended."

LTG Hack was especially impressed with DDC's work in managing and reducing distribution costs, our support to the Warfighter through DLA Contingency Support Teams (DCST), and our commitment to Business Systems Modernization.
